INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT

Board of Directors San Diego Children's Discovery Museum Escondido, California

Report on the Audit of the Financial Statements

Opinion

We have audited the financial statements of the San Diego Children's Discovery Museum (the "Museum"), a nonprofit organization, which comprise the statements of financial position as of June 30, 2023 and 2022, and the related statements of activities, functional expenses, and cash flows for the years then ended, and the related notes to the financial statements.

In our opinion, the accompanying financial statements present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of the San Diego Children's Discovery Museum as of June 30, 2023 and 2022, and the changes in its net assets and its cash flows for the years then ended in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

Basis for Opinion

We conducted our audit in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America (GAAS). Our responsibilities under those standards are further described in the Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Financial Statements section of our report. We are required to be independent of the San Diego Children's Discovery Museum and to meet our other ethical responsibilities, in accordance with the relevant ethical requirements relating to our audit. We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion.

Responsibilities of Management for the Financial Statements

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of the financial statements in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America, and for the design, implementation, and maintenance of internal control relevant to the preparation and fair presentation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the financial statements, management is required to evaluate whether there are conditions or events, considered in the aggregate, that raise substantial doubt about the San Diego Children's Discovery Museum's ability to continue as a going concern for one year after the date that the financial statements are issued.

Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Financial Statements

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance but is not absolute assurance and therefore is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with GAAS will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control. Misstatements are considered material if there is a substantial likelihood that, individually or in the aggregate, they would influence the judgment made by a reasonable user based on the financial statements.

In performing an audit in accordance with GAAS, we:

- Exercise professional judgment and maintain professional skepticism throughout the audit.
- Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, and design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks. Such procedures include examining, on a test basis, evidence regarding the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements.
- Obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Museum's internal control. Accordingly, no such opinion is expressed.
- Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of significant accounting estimates made by management, as well as evaluate the overall presentation of the financial statements.
- Conclude whether, in our judgment, there are conditions or events, considered in the aggregate, that raise substantial doubt about the Museum's ability to continue as a going concern for a reasonable period of time.

We are required to communicate with those charged with governance regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit, significant audit findings, and certain internal control-related matters that we identified during the audit.

Notes to the Financial Statements

Years ended June 30, 2023 and 2022

(1) Nature of Organization

San Diego Children's Discovery Museum (SDCDM) was incorporated as a non-profit corporation in January 2000. The mission of SDCDM is to spark a love of learning so all children can discover their wildest dreams. Its vision is to be the leaders in inventive early childhood learning by inspiring children ages 0-10 years old through supportive educational experiences in STEM (science, technology, engineering and math). SDCDM is a vital resource for families and schools seeking high-quality impactful early educational experiences that help build early skills essential for future success and health. SDCDM's exhibits, programs and events encourage curious young learners, nurture social and emotional skills, build foundational fluencies from a young age, and offer forms of play essential for creativity, curiosity, and gross and fine motor skills. The programs are delivered onsite, offsite through the Mobile Children's Museum, and online.

(2) Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

(a) Basis of Accounting

The financial statements of the Museum have been prepared on the accrual basis of accounting in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

(b) Use of Estimates

The preparation of the financial statements requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting period and the reported amounts of assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements. On an ongoing basis, the Museum's management evaluates the estimates and assumptions based upon historical experience and various other factors and circumstances. The Museum's management believes that the estimates and assumptions are reasonable in the circumstances; however, the actual results could differ from those estimates.

(c) Cash and Cash Equivalents

The Museum considers all highly liquid investments with a maturity of three months or less when purchased to be cash equivalents. The carrying amount of the Museum's cash and cash equivalents approximates fair value due to the short maturity of these investments. The Museum maintains cash balances at two financial institutions. Deposit accounts at each bank are insured by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation (FDIC) up to $250,000 per account.

Notes to the Financial Statements

(2) Summary of Significant Accounting Policies (Continued)

Cash and cash equivalents consists of the following at June 30:

	 2023	 2022
Demand deposits	$ 412,814	$ 417,007
Certificates of deposit
maturing in less than 90 days	101,486	-
,	$ 514,300	$ 417,007

(d) Accounts Receivable

Accounts receivable are primarily amounts due from local school districts and other entities for Museum related programs. Management believes that all outstanding accounts receivable at June 30, 2023 and 2022 are collectible.

(e) Contributions Receivable

Contributions receivable are unconditional promises to give that are recognized as contributions when the promise is received. Contributions receivable that are expected to be collected in less than one year are reported at net realizable value. Contributions receivable that are expected to be collected in more than one year are recorded at fair value at the date of promise. That fair value is computed using a present value technique applied to anticipated cash flows. Amortization of the resulting discount is recognized as additional contribution revenue. The allowance for uncollectible contributions receivable is determined based on management's evaluation of the collectability of individual promises.

(f) Fair Value Measurements

Certain assets and liabilities are reported at fair value based on a fair value hierarchy that distinguishes between assumptions based on market data (observable inputs) and the Museum's assumptions (unobservable inputs). Determining where an asset or liability falls within that hierarchy depends on the lowest level input that is significant to the fair value measurement as a whole.

An adjustment to the pricing method used within either Level 1 or Level 2 inputs could generate a fair value measurement that effectively falls in a lower level in the hierarchy. The hierarchy consists of three broad levels as follows:

Level 1 – Inputs to the valuation methodology are unadjusted quoted prices for identical assets or liabilities in active markets.

Notes to the Financial Statements

Years ended June 30, 2023 and 2022

Level 2 – Pricing inputs are other than quoted prices in active markets, which are either directly or indirectly observable as of the reporting date, and fair value is determined through the use of models or other valuation methodologies.

Level 3 – Pricing inputs are unobservable for the instrument and include situations where there is little, if any, market activity for the instrument. The inputs into the determination of fair value require significant management judgment or estimation.

In some instances, the inputs used to measure fair value may fall into different levels of the fair value hierarchy. In such instances, an instrument's level within the fair value hierarchy is based on the lowest level of input that is significant to the fair value measurement. Market price is affected by a number of factors, including the type of instrument and the characteristics specific to the instrument, as well as the effects of market, interest and credit risk. Instruments with readily available active quoted prices or for which fair value can be measured from actively quoted prices generally will have a higher degree of market price observability and a lesser degree of judgment used in measuring fair value. It is reasonably possible that changes in values of these instruments will occur in the near term and that such changes could materially affect amounts reported in the Museum's financial statements.

(g) Inventory

Inventory consists primarily of items for resale in the gift shop and is valued at the lower of cost (first-in, first-out method) and net realizable value.

(h) Property and Equipment

Property and equipment owned by the Museum are recorded at cost, or in the case of donated items, at estimated fair value at the date of the gift. Maintenance and repairs are expensed when incurred and betterments are capitalized. Property and equipment are depreciated using the straight-line method over their estimated useful lives of five to thirty-nine years. It is the policy of the Museum to capitalize assets with cost of $1,000 and greater with a useful life of more than one year.

Property and equipment are reviewed for impairment when a significant change in the asset's use or another indicator of possible impairment is present. No impairment losses were recognized in the financial statements for the years ended June 30, 2023 and 2022.

Notes to the Financial Statements

(2) Summary of Significant Accounting Policies (Continued)

(i) Membership Dues

Deferred revenue consists of payments for memberships received in advance. Membership dues are recognized on a pro-rata basis over the annual membership period.

(j) Net Assets

The financial statements report net assets and changes in net assets in two classes that are based upon the existence or absence of restrictions on use that are placed by its donors, as follows:

Net Assets Without Donor Restrictions

Net assets without donor restrictions are resources available to support operations. The only limits on the use of these net assets are the broad limits resulting for the nature of the Museum, the environment in which it operates, the purposes specified in its corporate documents and its application for tax-exempt status, and any limits resulting from contractual agreements with creditors and others that are entered into in the course of its operations.

Net Assets With Donor Restrictions

Net assets with donor restrictions are resources that are restricted by a donor for use for a particular purpose or in a particular future period. Some donor-imposed restrictions are temporary in nature, and the restrictions will expire when the resources are used in accordance with the donor's instructions or when the stipulated time has passed. Other donor-imposed restrictions are perpetual in nature; the Museum must continue to use the resources in accordance with the donor's instructions.

The Museum's unspent contributions are included in this class if the donor limited their use. When a donor's restriction is satisfied, either by using the resources in the manner specified by the donor or by the passage of time, the expiration of the restriction is reported in the financial statements by reclassifying the net assets from net assets with donor restrictions to net assets without donor restrictions.

Notes to the Financial Statements

(k) Classification of Transactions

All revenues and net gains are reported as increases in net assets without donor restrictions in the Statement of Activities unless the donor specified the use of the related resources for a particular purpose or in a future period. All expenses and net losses are reported as decreases in net assets without donor restrictions.

(I) Accounting for Contributions

Contributions, including unconditional promises to give, are recognized when received. All contributions are reported as increases in net assets without donor restrictions unless use of the contributed assets is specifically restricted by the donor. Amounts received that are restricted by the donor to use in future periods or for specific purposes are reported as increases in net assets with donor restrictions.

Unconditional promises with payments due in future years have an implied restriction to be used in the year the payment is due, and therefore are reported as restricted until the payment is due, unless the contribution is clearly intended to support activities of the current fiscal year. Conditional promises, such as matching grants, are not recognized until they become unconditional, that is, until all conditions on which they depend are substantially met.

(m) Gifts-in-Kind Contributions

For the years ended June 30, gifts-in-kind contributions recognized in the Statements of Activities included:

	2023	2022
Advertising services	$72,844	$92,908
Interest expense – forgiven	7,319	4,147
Goods and other services		2,745
Total	$80,163	$99,800

The Museum recognized contributed nonfinancial assets within revenue, including contributed services, forgiven interest, and goods and other services. Unless otherwise noted, contributed nonfinancial assets did not have donor-imposed restrictions.

Notes to the Financial Statements

Years ended June 30, 2023 and 2022

(2) Summary of Significant Accounting Policies (Continued)

The contributed advertising services were Google search ads. Contributed services are valued and reported at the estimated fair value in the financial statements based on current rates for similar advertising services.

The contributed interest expense is forgiven interest related to the advance payable discussed further in Note 7.

(n) Grant Revenue

Grant revenue is recognized as contributions income and contributions receivable when the qualifying costs are incurred for cost-reimbursement grants or contracts or when a unit of service is provided for performance grants.

(o) Expense Recognition and Allocation

The cost of providing the Museum's programs and other activities is summarized on a functional basis in the Statement of Activities and Statement of Functional Expenses. Expenses that can be identified with a specific program or support service are charged directly to that program or support service. Costs common to multiple functions have been allocated among the various functions benefited using a reasonable allocation method that is consistently applied, as follows:

- Salaries and wages, benefits, and payroll taxes are allocated based on activity reports prepared by key personnel.
- Occupancy, depreciation, and interest are allocated on a square foot basis dependent on the programs and supporting activities occupying the space.
- Telephone and internet services, insurance, and supplies and miscellaneous expenses that cannot be directly identified are allocated on the basis of employee headcount for each program and supporting activity.

General and administrative expenses include those costs that are not directly identifiable with any specific program, but which provide for the overall support and direction of the Museum.

Fundraising costs are expensed as incurred, even though they may result in contributions received in future years. The Museum generally does not conduct its fundraising activities in conjunction with its other activities.

Notes to the Financial Statements

Years ended June 30, 2023 and 2022

(2) Summary of Significant Accounting Policies (Continued)

In the few cases in which it does, such as when the annual report or donor acknowledgements contain requests for contributions, joint costs have been allocated between fundraising and general and administrative expenses in accordance with standards for accounting for costs of activities that include fundraising. Additionally, advertising costs are expensed as incurred.

(p) Tax Status

SDCDM is exempt from federal income and California franchise taxes under Section 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code ("IRC") and Section 23701(d) of the State Revenue and Taxation Code, respectively.

The Museum remains subject to taxes on any net income which is derived from a trade or business regularly carried on and unrelated to its exempt purpose. In the opinion of management, there is no unrelated business income for the years ended June 30, 2023 and 2022.

The Museum follows accounting standards generally accepted in the United States of America related to the recognition of uncertain tax positions as part of the Statement of Activities, when applicable. Management has determined that the Museum has no uncertain tax positions at June 30, 2023 and 2022, therefore, no amounts have been accrued.

Contributions to the Museum are tax deductible to donors under Section 170 of the IRC. The Museum is not classified as a private foundation.

(3) Investments and Fair Value Measurements

Fair values of assets measured on a recurring basis at June 30, 2023 are as follows:

	Quoted Prices in Active Markets for Identical Assets (Level 1)	Significant Other Observable Inputs (Level 2)	Significant Unobservable Inputs (Level 3)	Total
